

STUDENT LOAN DEFAULT RATE

A cohort default rate is the percentage of a school's borrowers who enter repayment on certain Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) Program or William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan (Direct Loan) Program loans during a particular federal fiscal year (FY), October 1 to September 30, and default or meet other specified conditions prior to the end of the second following fiscal year. Please refer to the Cohort Default Rate Guide for a more in-depth description of cohort default rates and how the rates are calculated.

According to data presented below for 3-year cohorts ending in 2014, 2015, and 2016, Cleveland State has seen a reduction in the loan default rate, and is rated 5th among the 13 public 4-year universities in Ohio for loan default rate. Among comparable universities the University of Akron, Youngstown State University, and University of Toledo, Cleveland State has the lowest loan default rate.
